

The Future CEO

This activity helps employees understand different leadership styles while figuring out their own natural approach.

Purpose

- To understand and develop different leadership styles.
- To analyze everyone's natural leadership style.

How to Conduct This Activity in Your Office?

Time: 10-20 minutes

Materials: Paper, Pen, and Internet Access (if required)

Participants & Team Size: Any number of participants; 3-8 members per team

Instructions

- 1) Initially, split the participants into teams. Next, provide each team member with a sheet of paper and pen.
- 2) Now, ask each team member to explain how they would lead the workplace if they become the CEO. Encourage them to consider the aspects such as communication, decision-making, handling challenges, etc.

For example,

- Communication: [REDACTED]
- Decision Making: [REDACTED]
- Handling Challenges: [REDACTED]

- 3) After that, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

The Future CEO

How to Conduct This Activity with Your Remote Employees?

Time: 10-20 minutes

Materials: None

Participants & Team Size: Any number of participants; 3-8 members per team

Instructions

- 1) Initially, get the participants onto a video call and split them into teams. Next, let each team do this activity on a separate video call and come back to the main video call after completion.
- 2) Now, ask each team member to explain how they would lead the workplace if they become the CEO. Encourage them to consider the aspects such as communication, decision-making, handling challenges, etc.

For example,

- Communication: [REDACTED]
- Decision Making: [REDACTED]
- Handling Challenges: [REDACTED]

- 3) After that, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Variations

Ask each person

Debrief Questions

- What was going through your mind during this activity?
- ?
- ?
- ?
- Starting now, what practical steps will you take to translate the lessons learned into tangible results within your work environment?